FOREWORD.

The forest laws of the State are given in full. The following summary is intended to show briefly what provisions are of particular interest to different classes of citizens:

County Officers. Forest fires can not be suppressed by individual effort. The work must be organized. Organize in your county. The laws give you the right to appropriate money from the county treasury for the purpose. Have paid firewardens appointed and provide an emergency fund for fire fighting. Many counties do so. They find it pays.

Have your firewardens clear up dangerous places along roads and trails.

Timber Owners. Have your employees appointed firewardens, with authority to hire assistance when necessary. If your holdings are too small to warrant the expense, join with your neighbors and share the cost.

Take care of your slashings.

See that you have adequate spark arresters on wood or coal-burning engines.

Caution your employees not to set fires. If the State or county has to fight them, you are liable for the full amount of all expenses incurred.

Firewardens. Study the forest laws.

All Citizens. Be careful with fires in timber, grass, or brush.

Fight fires when called upon.

Read rules for prevention of forest fires.

Read instructions to fire fighters.

FOREST LAWS OF CALIFORNIA.

ORGANIZATION OF STATE FOREST WORK.

Chapter 264, Laws of 1905 (p. 235).

An act to provide for the regulation of fires on, and the protection and management of, public and private forest lands within the State of California, creating a State Board of Forestry and certain officers subordinate to said board, prescribing the duties of such officers, creating a forestry fund, and appropriating the moneys in said fund, and defining and providing for the punishment of certain offenses for violations of the provisions of this act, and making an appropriation therefor.

SECTION 1. State Board of Forestry.—There shall be a State Board of Forestry, consisting of the Governor, Secretary of State, Attorney General and State Forester, which shall supervise all matters of State forest policy and management, and convene upon the call of the Governor or of its secretary.

SEC. 2. State Forester and his duties.—There shall be a State Forester, who shall be a civil executive officer, and who shall be a technically trained forester, appointed by the Governor to hold office at the pleasure of the appointing power; and whether any candidate for the position is a technically trained forester shall be determined by certificate from the Secretary of the United States Department of Agriculture, or from the Department of Forestry of the State University after such department is established. He shall receive a salary of twenty-four hundred dollars per annum, and shall be authorized and empowered to appoint two assistant foresters, whose salaries shall not exceed twelve hundred dollars each per annum. He shall maintain headquarters at the State Capitol in an office provided by the Secretary of State, and shall be allowed necessary office and contingent expenses. He and his assistants shall be paid reasonable traveling and field expenses which may be incurred in the necessary performance of their official duties. He shall act as secretary of the State Board of Forestry. He shall, under the supervision of the State Board of Forestry, execute all matters pertaining to forestry within the jurisdiction of the State; have charge of all firewardens in the State, and direct and aid them in their duties; direct the protection and improvement of state parks and forests; collect data relative to forest destruction and conditions; take such action as is authorized by law to prevent and extinguish forest, brush, and grass fires; enforce all laws pertaining to forest and brush-covered land, and prosecute for any violation of such laws; co-operate with landowners, as described in section four in this act; and publish from time to time such information of forestry as he may deem wise. He shall prepare annually a report to the Governor on the progress and condition of state forest work, and recommend therein plans for improving the state system of forest protection, management and replacement.*

SEC. 3. Supervision and care of state parks.—The California Redwood Park and the Mount Hamilton tract, together with all moneys heretofore or hereafter appropriated for the purchase of land for or care of said parks, tracts and stations, shall be in charge of the State Board of Forestry, said board to take the place of and forthwith shall have all the powers and duties now possessed in accordance with law by persons or commissions with regard to the state parks, tracts of land, and forest stations mentioned in this act, and also any forest or brush land which may hereafter become state property, or be placed definitely in the care of the State; and it is hereby further enacted that, if the government of the United States or any individual or corporation shall, at any time, donate or intrust to the State of California, for state park or state forest reserve purposes, any tract or tracts of wholly or partially wooded land, such tract or tracts of land shall be administered at the expense of the State, as provided by law.*†

SEC. 4. Co-operative work.—The State Forester shall, upon request and whenever he deems it essential to the best interests of the people and the State, co-operate with counties, towns, corporations, and individuals in preparing plans for the protection, management and replacement of trees, woodlots and timber tracts, on consideration and under an agreement that the parties obtaining such assistance pay at least the field expenses of the men employed in preparing said plans.

SEC. 5. Publication of laws and notices.—The State Forester shall prepare and print for public distribution an abstract of all the forest laws of California, together with such rules and regulations in accord therewith, as he may deem necessary, and shall annually print and distribute a list of all firewardens with their addresses, all such matter to be published with the approval of the State Board of Forestry. He shall also furnish notices, printed in large letters on cloth, calling attention to the danger from forest fires, and to forest fire and trespass laws and their penalties. Such notices shall be posted by the firewardens in conspicuous places along every highway in brush and forest-covered country, at frequent intervals along streams and lakes frequented by tourists, hunters or fishermen, at established camping sites, and in every post office in the forested region.

SEC. 6. Fire districts.—The State Forester shall divide the State into such number of fire districts as shall be deemed by him most necessary to the efficiency of his work; and, furthermore, any county, or combination of less than four counties, shall be made a separate fire district, upon request of the county board or boards of supervisors, in which case such special fire district shall pay the cost of maintaining its district firewardens.*

SEC. 7. Duties of assistant foresters.—The duties of the assistant foresters shall be to devote their entire time to State forest interests according to rules and directions to be determined by the State Forester, with the approval of the State Board of Forestry. They shall take prompt measures to prevent and extinguish forest fires; keep a record of the cause, extent and damage of all forest fires in their respective districts, and perform such other duties as the State Forester may direct.

SEC. 8. Voluntary firewardens and their duties.—The State Forester shall appoint, in such number and localities as he deems wise, public-spirited citizens to act as voluntary firewardens, who may receive payment for their services from the counties or from private sources. They shall promptly report all fires and take immediate and active steps toward their extinguishment, report any violation of the forest laws, assist in apprehending and convicting offenders, and perform such other duties as the State Forester may direct. The supervisors and rangers on the Federal forest reserves within the State, whenever they formally accept the duties and responsibilities of firewardens, may be appointed as voluntary firewardens, and shall have all the powers given to firewardens by this act.

SEC. 9. Powers and requirements of firewardens.—The State Forester and all firewardens shall have the powers of peace officers to make arrests without warrant, for violations of any State or Federal forest laws, and no firewarden shall be liable to civil action for trespass committed in the discharge of his duties. Any firewarden who has information which would show with reasonable certainty, that any person had violated any provision of such forest laws, shall immediately take action against the offender, either by using his own powers as a peace officer or by making complaint before the proper magistrate, or by information to the proper district attorney, and shall obtain all possible evidence pertaining thereto. Failure on the part of any paid firewarden to comply with the duties prescribed in this act shall be a misdemeanor, and punishable by a fine of not less than twenty dollars nor more than two hundred and fifty dollars, or imprisonment for not less than ten days nor more than three months, or both such fine and imprisonment, and the State Forester is hereby authorized to investigate and prosecute such violations.

SEC. 10. Assistance of citizens in fighting fire. (Penal Code, sec. 384, subsec. 5. See page 14.)

SEC. 11. Fire patrol.—In times and localities of particular fire danger the State Forester may maintain a fire patrol through the firewardens, at such places in brush or forest land, as the public interest may require, the expense of such patrol to be paid by the county in which such patrol is maintained; and, furthermore, he may, upon written request by counties, corporations or individuals, maintain a fire patrol on their forest lands; provided, that the expense of said patrol be paid by the party or parties requesting same.

SEC. 12. District attorneys to prosecute vigorously.—Whenever an arrest shall have been made for violation of any provision of this act, or whenever any information of such violation shall have been lodged with him, the district attorney of the county in which the criminal act was committed must prosecute the offender or offenders with all diligence and energy. If any district attorney shall fail to comply with the provisions of this section he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, in the discretion of the court. Action against the district attorney shall be brought by the Attorney General in the name of the people of the State on the relation of the State Forester. The penalties of this section shall apply to any magistrate, with proper authority, who refuses or neglects to cause the arrest and prosecution of any person or persons when complaint, under oath, of violation of any terms of this act has been lodged with him.

SEC. 13. Destruction of warning notices.—Any person who shall destroy, deface, remove or disfigure any sign, poster or warning notice posted under the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable, upon conviction, by a fine of not less than fifteen dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not less than ten days nor more than three months, or both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 14. Wilfully, maliciously, and negligently setting forest fires. (Penal Code, sec. 384, subsec. 1. See page 12.)

SEC. 15. Extinguishment of camp fires. (Penal Code, sec. 384, subsec. 6. See page 14.)

SEC. 16. Restrictions of use of fire during a dry season. (Penal Code, sec. 384, subsec. 3. See page 13.)

SEC. 17. Engines in forest land. (Penal Code, sec. 384, subsec. 4. See page 14.)

SEC. 18. Civil liability for forest fires.—In addition to the penalties provided in this act, the United States, State, county, or private owners, whose property is injured or destroyed by such fires, may recover in a civil action, double* the amount of damages suffered if the fires occurred through wilfulness, malice or negligence; but if such fires were caused or escaped accidentally or unavoidably, civil action shall lie only for the actual damage sustained as determined by the value of the property injured or destroyed, and the detriment to the land and vegetation thereof. The presumption of wilfulness, malice or neglect shall be overcome; provided, that the precautions set forth are observed; or, provided, fires are set during a "dry season" with written permission of and under the direction of the district firewarden. Persons or corporations causing fires by violations of this act shall be liable to the state or county in action for debt, to the full amount of all expenses incurred by the State or county in fighting such fires.

*Section 3344 of the Political Code states that "Every person negligently setting fire to his own woods, or negligently suffering any fire to extend beyond his own land, is liable in treble damages to the party injured." Treble damages are changed to double damages by the above section.

Section 19 of the above entitled act, approved March 18, 1905, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

SEC. 19. Inspection of forest area.—It shall be the duty of the State Board of Forestry, whenever it shall be deemed necessary, to notify the owner of any forest area within the State by a written notice to be served upon the person or persons or corporation, or either of them, owning or having charge of such area, or upon the agents, attorney or representative of either, by any firewarden, deputy firewarden or special firewarden or any employee of the State Board of Forestry, in the same manner as a summons in a civil action, or if such area belongs to any non-resident person or corporation and there is no person in control or possession thereof, and such non-resident person or corporation has no tenant, attorney, representative or agent upon whom such service can be had, or if the owner or owners of such area or their tenants, attorneys, representatives, or agents, can not after due diligence be found, then by posting the said notice in some conspicuous place upon such area and by mailing a copy thereof to the owner thereof at his last known place of residence if the same is known or can be ascertained, that the said State Board of Forestry intends to cause an inspection to be made of the said forest area for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not the same constitutes a nuisance as hereinafter provided. The said notice shall describe the forest area to be inspected by general description and shall designate the time of such inspection. At the time so designated in said notice the said State Board of Forestry shall cause an inspection to be made of the said forest area and the said owner or his agent shall be permitted to be present during such inspection and shall be given a full opportunity of showing that such forest area is not a nuisance as contemplated by this act. If the said State Board of Forestry after such inspection finds any forest area inadequately protected adjoining, lying near, or intermingled with other forest and covered wholly or in part with inflammable debris, which by reason of such location or condition or lack of protection endangers life or property, the State Board of Forestry shall in writing notify the owner or owners of such areas that the condition of said areas endangers life or property and shall require such person or corporation to clean up such areas by the use of fire or otherwise at a time and in a manner to be therein specified. Said notice may be served upon the person or persons or corporation, or either of them, owning or having charge of such areas or upon the agents of either, by any firewarden, deputy firewarden or special firewarden or any employee of the State Board of Forestry, in the same manner as a summons in a civil action; provided, however, that if any such area belong to any non-resident person or corporation and there is no person in control or possession thereof and such non-resident person or corporation has no tenant, bailee, depository or agent upon whom such service can be had; or if the owner or owners of such areas can not after due diligence be found, then such notice may be served by posting the same in some conspicuous place upon such area, and by mailing a copy thereof to the owner thereof at his last known place of residence, if the same is known or can be ascertained. Any and all such inadequately protected forest areas adjoining, lying near, or intermingled with other forest and covered wholly or in part with inflammable debris, which by reason of such location or condition or lack of protection endangers life or property, are hereby declared to be a public nuisance; and whenever any such nuisance shall exist within the State, and the proper notice shall have been served, as herein provided, and the time specified in said notice shall have elapsed without the nuisance having been abated, it shall be the duty of the State Board of Forestry to cause said nuisance to be at once abated, by burning or otherwise disposing of the inflammable debris. The expense thereof shall be paid by the State in like manner as bills for fire fighting are paid. Any and all such sum or sums so paid shall be and become a lien on the property from which said nuisance has been removed or abated in pursuance of this section, and said lien shall continue as long as the said sum or sums above referred to shall remain unpaid. The claim for any lien shall be filed by the State Forester, or under his direction, by any of his assistants or firewardens, in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the property on which said nuisance existed is situated. Proceedings for the enforcement of such lien shall be instituted by the district attorney of the county where the nuisance existed, at the request of the State Board of Forestry and in the name of the State of California as claimant; and the costs shall be recovered in the usual manner. The State Board of Forestry is hereby vested with the power to cause any and all such nuisances to be abated in a summary manner.*

SEC. 20. Disposal of moneys received as penalties. All moneys received as penalties for violations of the provisions of this act, less the cost of collection, and not otherwise provided for, shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the forestry fund, which fund is hereby created, and the moneys therein are hereby appropriated for purposes of forest protection, management and replacement under direction of the State Board of Forestry.*

SEC. 21. Moneys for forest purposes.—County boards of supervisors may appropriate money for purposes of forest protection, improvement and management.

SEC. 22. Payment of expenses under this act.—There is hereby appropriated for the fifty-seventh and fifty-eighth fiscal years, the sum of seventeen thousand six hundred dollars ($17,600)* for carrying out the provisions of this act, and for the payment of all salaries and expenses herein provided for.

SEC. 23. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

*All fines collected to go to the county.

COUNTY CO-OPERATION.

The provisions made by the above sections 4, 6, 8, 11, 19, and 21 for the co-operation of counties with the State is supplanted by the following act (Stats. 1905, 394):

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the act to establish a uniform system of county and township governments, to be numbered 33½, and to read as follows:

Section 33½. To appropriate from the general fund of the county, unless otherwise provided, not exceeding in counties of the first and second class the sum of twenty thousand dollars, and in all other counties not exceeding the sum of ten thousand dollars in any one year, to aid and carry on the work of the preservation of forests upon public lands, the reforestation of forests upon public lands, and the protection of forests upon public lands from fire.

FIRE LAWS AND PENALTIES.

CHAPTER 699.

An act to amend section 384 of the Penal Code, relating to forest fires.

[Approved May 1, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 384 of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Setting fire wilfully or negligently.

384. Any person who shall wilfully or negligently commit any of the acts hereinafter enumerated in this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof be punishable by a fine of not less than fifty nor more than five hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail not less than fifteen days nor more than six months, or both such fine and imprisonment, except that in the case of an offense against subsection five of this section, the fine imposed may be not less than ten dollars.

*The appropriation for the two years from July 1, 1913, to June 30, 1915, is $43,800.

1. Back firing.

Setting fire, or causing or procuring fire to be set to any forest, brush or other inflammable vegetation growing on lands not his own, without the permission of the owner of such land; provided, that no person shall be convicted under this section who shall have set, in good faith and with reasonable care, a back fire for the purpose of stopping the progress of a fire then actually burning.

2. Allowing fire to escape.

Allowing fires to escape from the control of the persons having charge thereof, or to spread to the lands of any person other than the builder of such fire without using every reasonable and proper precaution to prevent such fire from escaping.

3. Carelessness with fire.

Burning brush, stumps, logs, rubbish, fallen timber, fallows or grass on his own land, or blasting with dynamite, powder or other explosives, or setting off fireworks in forest or brush-covered land, either his own or the property of another, without taking every proper and reasonable precaution both before the lighting of said fire and at all times thereafter to prevent the escape thereof; provided, that any firewarden may, in his discretion, give a written permit to any person desiring to burn or blast as aforesaid; such permit shall contain such rules and regulations for the building and management of such fires as the State Board of Forestry may from time to time prescribe; and in any prosecution under this subsection it shall be prima facie evidence that the defendant has taken proper and reasonable precautions to prevent the escape of such fire, when he shall show that he has received such a permit and has complied with all the rules and regulations therein prescribed.

4. Locomotives, engines and boilers.

Using any logging locomotive, donkey or threshing engine, or any other engine or boiler, in or near any forest, brush or grass land, unless he shall prove upon the trial, affirmatively, that such engines or boilers used by him were provided with adequate devices to prevent the escape of fire or sparks from smokestacks, ashpans, fireboxes, or other parts, and that he has used every reasonable precaution to prevent the causing of fire thereby.

5. Obliged to fight fire when called upon.

Refusing or failing to render assistance in combatting fires at the summons of any firewarden unless prevented by good and sufficient reasons.

6. Allowing fires to escape.

Leaving fire burning or unextinguished on departing from a camp or camping place, or allowing such fire to spread after being built.

7. Municipal corporation.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to the setting of fire on lands within any municipal corporation of the State.

SEC. 2. All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

MALICIOUSLY SETTING FIRE.

PENAL CODE, SEC. 600. Every person who wilfully and maliciously burns any bridge exceeding in value fifty dollars, or any structure, snowshed, vessel or boat, not the subject of arson, or any tent, or any stack of hay or grain or straw of any kind, or any pile of baled hay or straw, or any pile of potatoes, or beans, or vege-

NOTE.—The Political Code, section 3345, states that "Whenever the woods are on fire any justice of the peace, constable, or road overseer of the township or district where the fire exists, may order as many of the inhabitants liable to poll tax, residing in the vicinity, as may be deemed necessary, to repair to the place of the fire and assist in stopping or extinguishing it." It may sometimes be necessary for fire fighters to take advantage of this privilege where no firewarden is available.

tables, or produce, or fruit of any kind, whether sacked, boxed, or crated, or not, or any growing or standing grain, grass, or tree, or any fence, or any railroad car, lumber, cord wood, railroad ties, telegraph or telephone poles, or shakes, or any tule land or peat ground of the value of twenty-five dollars or over, not the property of such person, is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than one year nor more than ten years.

FEDERAL FIRE LAWS.

Act of May 5, 1900 (31 Stats. 169).

SECTION 1. Any person who shall wilfully or maliciously set on fire any timber, underbrush, or grass upon the public domain, or shall leave or suffer fire to burn unattended near any timber or other inflammable material, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof in any district court of the United States having jurisdiction of the same, shall be fined in the sum of not more than five thousand dollars or be imprisoned for a term of not more than two years, or both.

SEC. 2. Any person who shall build a fire in or near any forest, timber, or other inflammable material upon the public domain shall, before leaving said fire, totally extinguish the same. Any person failing to do so shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof in any district court of the United States having jurisdiction of the same, shall be fined in a sum not more than one thousand dollars, or be imprisoned for a term not more than one year, or both.

SEC. 3. That in all cases arising under this act the fines collected shall be paid into the public school fund of the county in which the lands where the offense was committed are situated.

UNLAWFUL CUTTING AND INJURY.

Timber trespass a misdemeanor.

PENAL CODE, SEC. 602. Every person who wilfully commits trespass by either—

1. Cutting down, destroying, or injuring any kind of wood or timber standing or growing upon the lands of another; or,

2. Carrying away any kind of wood or timber lying on such lands —is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Civil liability for timber trespass.

CIVIL CODE, SEC. 3346. For wrongful injuries to timber, trees or underwood upon the lands of another, or removal thereof, the measure of damages is three times such a sum as would compensate for the actual detriment, except where the trespass was casual and involuntary, or committed under the belief that the land belonging to the trespasser, or where the wood was taken by the authority of highway officers for the purposes of a highway; in which cases the damages are a sum equal to the actual detriment.

CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE, SEC. 733. Any person who cuts down or carries off any wood or underwood, tree or timber, or girdles or otherwise injures any tree or timber on land of another person, * * * without lawful authority, is liable to the owner of such land * * * for treble the amount of damages which may be assessed therefor, in a civil action, in any court having jurisdiction.

CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE, SEC. 734. Nothing in the last section authorizes the recovery of more than the just value of the timber taken from uncultivated woodland, for the repair of a public highway or being upon the land or adjoining it.

CALIFORNIA REDWOOD PARK.

CHAPTER 12.

An act providing for the management of the California Redwood Park and creating a board of five commissioners with power to manage said California Redwood Park.

[Approved February 6, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Governor of the State of California shall appoint four commissioners, who with himself, shall constitute the California Redwood Park Commission. The term of office of the members of said commission shall be four years from and after the date of their appointment. The commission shall select from its members a president and secretary. The members of the commission shall serve without compensation. They shall be allowed and paid out of the funds available therefor, all reasonable traveling expenses which may be incurred by the members of said commission in the performance of their various duties.

SEC. 2. The said California Redwood Park Commission shall have full power and control over the said park and over any and all funds provided for the care, preservation, maintenance, and improvement of the same and shall make and enforce all necessary rules and regulations for the care, preservation, maintenance and improvement of the same, and shall have power to employ a warden and necessary assistants for the preservation of said park and for any and all purposes herein specified. The compensation of such warden and his assistants shall be fixed by the said commission. The compensation of the warden, however, shall not exceed the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

SEC. 3. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed.

SEC. 4. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 51.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to provide for the protection and preservation of shade and ornamental trees growing and to be grown upon the roads, highways, grounds and property within the State of California; and for the planting, care, protection and preservation of shade and ornamental trees, hedges, lawns, shrubs and flowers growing and to be grown in and upon such roads, highways, grounds and property; and to create county boards of forestry for such purposes; and to prescribe the duties and powers of such boards; and to authorize such boards to appoint county foresters; and to prescribe the duties and fix the compensation of county foresters; and to empower such boards to enforce all laws and adopt and enforce any and all lawful and reasonable rules for the protection, planting, regulation, preservation, care and control of such shade and ornamental trees, hedges, lawns, shrubs and flowers," approved April 28, 1909.

[Approved April 23, 1913.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The board of supervisors in each and every county or city and county of the State of California may, in its discretion, appoint a county board of forestry, consisting of five persons, one from each supervisorial district, who shall serve without compensation, and who shall have exclusive charge and control of all shade and ornamental trees, hedges, lawns, shrubs and flowers growing or to be grown upon the public roads, highways, grounds and property within its respective county.

SEC. 2. Whenever the board of supervisors of any county or city and county in this state shall, by resolution or ordinance, elect to avail itself of the provisions of this act, such board shall, within two months thereafter, appoint five suitable and competent persons, one from each supervisorial district of such county or city and county, as a county board of forestry in and for such county, who shall serve as such without compensation; and may also fix the compensation of a county forester, to be appointed as hereinafter provided at a sum not to exceed $150.00 per month.

SEC. 3. The term of office of such county board of forestry shall be four years; provided, however, that the persons first appointed shall so classify themselves by lot that two of their number shall retire from office at the end of two years, two at the end of three years and one at the end of four years. If any vacancy occurs in the office, such vacancy shall be filled, for the unexpired term, by the board of supervisors.

SEC. 4. Within ten days after notice of their appointment, the members of said county board of forestry shall organize by the election of one of their members as chairman and adopt suitable rules for their government.

SEC. 5. When organized, said county board of forestry, may employ a suitable and competent person as county forester to serve as such during the pleasure of the board and to prescribe the duties of such employee.

SEC. 6. Such forester, when appointed shall execute a bond to said board, in the sum of $1,000.00, for the faithful performance of his duties. He shall be the secretary of said board and shall perform such other duties as said board shall prescribe. Said forester shall have power and it shall be his duty to enforce the provisions of this act and all lawful orders of said board.

SEC. 7. Every county board of forestry appointed under the provisions of this act shall, within its respective county, have power over and jurisdiction to decide upon the variety, kind and character of trees, hedges, shrubs, lawns and flowers that shall be planted upon said roads, highways, grounds and property; and to determine all questions respecting the pruning, cutting and removal of any trees or hedges now growing and to grow thereon and the necessity therefor and the extent of and the manner in which said work shall be done; and, under the authority of the board of supervisors of its respective county, to plant and properly care for such trees, hedges, shrubs, lawns and flowers; and to enforce, carry out and effectuate the provisions of this act; provided, however, that said board, in the exercise of its powers and the performance of its duties hereunder, shall not interfere with the jurisdiction of the board of supervisors over the roads, highways, grounds and property in the improvement, care and general control thereof.

SEC. 8. It shall be unlawful for any person or corporation (except said board of forestry or its employees) in any county or city and county where a county board of forestry has been created and appointed under the provisions of this act, to trim, prune, cut, deface, destroy or remove any shade or ornamental tree or hedge growing or to grow upon any such road, highway, ground or property or to paint, place, attach to or put upon any such trees, hedges, shrubs, lawns or flowers, any sign, notice, advertisement or advertising device without the consent in writing of said board first obtained, or to plant any tree or hedge, on any such road, highway, ground or property without such written consent; provided, however, that nothing in this act shall give such county board of forestry any jurisdiction over any fruit or nut trees now growing along said roads, highways, grounds or property, except that such trees may not be removed without the consent of the said board of forestry.

SEC. 9. Every person who shall violate any of the provisions of section 8 of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEC. 10. All moneys received as penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act, shall be paid into the county treasury to the credit of the county board of forestry fund; which fund is hereby created, and the moneys thereof hereby appropriated for the expenses of said board in the carrying out of the provisions of this act and the policy and purposes herein provided.

SEC. 11. County boards of supervisors, whenever the provisions of this act are availed of, shall appropriate money for the use of said county board of forestry sufficient to pay the compensation of said county forester and for the necessary expenses of said county board of forestry.

SEC. 12. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 219.

An act to provide for the reforestation, the cutting of fire lanes and fire trails on the Angeles national forest, and to make an appropriation therefor.

[Approved June 3, 1913.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The sum of five thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, which money shall be used and expended for the purpose of cutting fire lanes and fire trails to protect the timber now standing or that may be planted upon the San Bernardino mountains, in the State of California.

SEC. 2. The state board of control is hereby empowered to enter into a contract or contracts with the forest service of the United States government for the purpose of cutting fire lanes and fire trails for the protection of the forest and brush specified in section one of this act; provided, however, that these expenditures for such purposes shall not be in excess of the amount or amounts to be expended by the forestry department of the federal government in collaboration with the specific work named above; and provided, further, that in case the forestry department of the federal government above mentioned does not contribute the fund for said co-operation, that the state board of control shall not have power to enter into such contract or contracts with the said department for the expenditure of the said money.

To catch the young of any fish without at once returning them alive to the water, or to catch fish, except with hook and line, in any stream upon which a fish hatchery is maintained.

INSTRUCTIONS TO FIRE FIGHTERS.

If you discover a fire too large to be put out at once, get help immediately. If necessary, notify the nearest firewarden. If no firewarden is available, call upon a justice of the peace, constable, road overseer, or experienced fire fighter. Citizens are required by law to fight forest fires, without compensation, when summoned by a state firewarden.

Do not allow yourself and your neighbors to stay at home watching your fences and buildings when organized effort would put the fire out and save not only your property but that of others. Here, more than anywhere else, "In unity there is strength."

Organize, and select the best man as leader. Where a firewarden is present, he should take charge.

If you believe that a fire will take a considerable time to put out, divide your force into crews, one to relieve the other. Keep some one on the job all the time.

Form a plan of action and stick to it. Consider the rights of property owners, but don't let them back fire to protect their own property unless this will be for the general good. Threaten arrest if they persist in back firing against your judgment. Back fires should be authorized only by the man in charge.

Many a forest fire becomes uncontrollable because the owner of a fence or a few cords of wood attempted to save it in a situation where it is clearly impossible to do so. Or a rancher protects his ranch by back firing all around it and pays no attention to what becomes of his back fire. The law says that "No person shall be convicted * * * who shall have set, in good faith and with reasonable care, a back fire for the purpose of stopping the progress of a fire then actually burning." This does not legalize such examples of back firing as are cited above. Every effort will be made to protect all interests, but selfish interference with a plan of action drawn up for the good of all, will not be tolerated.

The best tools for fighting fire are the shovel, mattock, ax, and wet sacks. Rakes, hoes and brush hooks are also useful. Other requisites are canteens or water bottles, and lanterns or candles for night work.

If possible, stop the fire by means of a trail or trench. Where the fire burns slowly in open timber pinch it out by knocking the burning material back on to the burned area. Put out logs and stumps by throwing dirt on them. See that the fire burns over the smallest area possible. Never leave burning trees or snags near the fire line. Chop, saw, or blast them down. Many fires well under control have broken out again when a little additional work would have made them quite safe.

Work at night or in early morning instead of by day, when this is possible. At night a six-inch trail will often hold a fire that would leap a quarter mile during the heat of the day. And at night less time is wasted packing water to the fire fighters.

Fires occurring in dense brush or thickets, or during high winds may require back firing. Start your back fire far enough in front so that you will have time to complete your work before the main fire reaches you. Start it from a road, trail or stream if possible. If not, cut a trail, scrape it clean, light your fire, and guard your trail.

Back fire along the top or bottom of a ridge, rather than midway up the slope. In narrow canyons back fire from a trail built a few feet from the bottom on the opposite slope from the fire, to prevent rolling snags and cones from jumping the line. Place burning logs up down the slope to prevent their rolling down and starting additional fires. Sand or earth thrown on a fire is as effective as water.

See to it that the ends of your back fire are safe. Run them together, if possible, so that the fire is surrounded, or else run them into portions of the main fire that have burnt out, or to a stream or road. A back fire is as bad as a forest fire unless it is perfectly safe throughout its whole length.

Watch the fire line after the fire is under control. Sparks blown from burning snags, chunks thrown from falling trees, red-hot pine cones rolling down hill—any of these may cross the fire line. Keep some one on guard. This is most important.

If you find you can not control a fire with all the help available, telegraph the State Forester, Sacramento, collect. No aid from this office can be promised since the legislature has not authorized the payment of fire fighters from state funds. But in a serious emergency, the State Forester may be able to get help from other sources.

No fire fighting bills should be presented to this office for payment, because no funds are available. The county or owner of the land should pay the bills.

Report all fires that come to your knowledge. Blank forms for this purpose will be supplied on application to this office. Report promptly.

Forest fires never behave twice alike, and it is not easy to prepare general instructions that will fit all cases. Use your best judgment if you are in charge of a fire. And if you are fighting under the direction of some one else, obey his instructions.

TO FIREWARDENS.

See to it that fire warnings and handbooks are posted in the local post offices. Ask your local newspapers to print the names and addresses of firewardens in your vicinity.

Report all fires promptly, no matter how small.

Try to find out the cause of every fire. If the forest laws are broken in your presence, you may arrest without a warrant. Otherwise, get one from a magistrate. Get all the evidence you can, and if you are in doubt as to how to act on it, consult the district attorney, or this office.

Always report the result of prosecutions.

Keep supplied with report blanks, fire warnings and handbooks. They will be sent to you on request.

Report any change in your address. Write freely for advice or information to

STATE FORESTER,
SACRAMENTO, CAL.
